HOMEMADE RICE PUDDING

Paws Corner by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My brother is staying with us through the holiday season while he figures out his life. However, he insists on keeping the feeding bowls full for my two dogs, Buster and Charlie. I've spoken to him several times already, asking him not to do it. Buster is overweight and on a prescribed diet. What can I do to stop this? – Darlene in Phoenix, Arizona

DEAR DARLENE: It's really strange, and annoying, that your brother can't seem to follow your request. I'm not sure what's going on, so I won't judge the situation. However, if you want him to stay, then for your dogs' sake, you'll have to take extra steps to stop this.

Move the dog food to a cabinet or storage bin that you can lock. Take out just the amount of food for that day and portion it out for your dogs' scheduled feeding times. Then remind your brother that the way you feed your dogs is non-negotiable.

DEAR PAWS: I'm 11 years old and my cousins are staying with us for Christmas. They want to walk my dog, Reed, all the time. But that's my job, and Reed is my dog. How can I get them to stop? – Carlos in Dallas, Texas

DEAR CARLOS: Talk to your parents about your frustration. Are your cousins not sharing the lead during walks? Or are they mistreating your dog? If it's a sharing situation, the adults should help negotiate a fair plan for walking Reed. If they're mistreating him, your parents need to know and put a stop to it.

Holiday visits can be annoying for you and your pets, but being diplomatic while holding firm to certain rules, like diet and training schedule, is helpful. Best of luck.

Recipe Corner

1/2 cup butter
30 large marshmallows
1 1/2 tsp. green food coloring
1 tsp. vanilla extract
4 cups cornflakes cereal
2 Tbsp. cinnamon red hot candies

Christmas Wreath Cookies

Set out one or two sheets of waxed paper. Melt butter in a large saucepan over low heat. Add marshmallows, and cook stirring constantly, until melted. Remove from the heat, stir in food coloring and vanilla, then stir in cornflakes. Fill a skillet with 1" of very hot water. Place the saucepan into the skillet so cookie dough stays warm. Quickly drop a heaping tablespoonful of cookie dough onto the waxed paper, and use lightly greased fingers to form it into a wreath shape. Immediately decorate cookie with red hot candies. Repeat to shape and decorate remaining cookies. Allow cookies to cool to room temperature before removing from waxed paper, about 15 minutes. Store in an airtight container.

1 cup butter, softened
8 oz. package cream cheese
1 cup white sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup green sugar crystals
1/2 cup red sugar crystals
1 cup pecan halves

Cream Cheese Christmas Cookies

Cream together the butter and cream cheese. Add sugar and vanilla; beat until light and fluffy. Combine the flour and salt; gradually add to creamed mixture, beating until well blended. Stir in chopped pecans. Cover bowl with plastic wrap and refrigerate for 15 minutes. On four sheets of aluminum foil, shape dough into four 6" rolls, 1 1/2" in diameter. Wrap each roll tightly in foil and refrigerate over night. Preheat oven to 325°. Line cookie sheets with foil. Remove rolls of dough from refrigerator one at a time. Coat each roll with red or green sugar crystals; cut dough into 1/4" slices. Place on prepared cookie sheets; top each cookie with a pecan half. Bake for 15 to 18 minutes or until bottom of cookie is lightly browned when lifted.

Interesting Observations and Encounters During Deer Season

With all the millions of thoughts, memories, and experiences you've had throughout your lifetime, have you ever wondered why your brain decides to pull up a certain item from its vast treasure trove at a particular time? For instance, my wife and I were married in November 1987, midway through my four-year tour at Fort Wainwright in Fairbanks, Alaska. For some reason, I remember us sitting down together on Monday evenings and both of us laughing extensively when ALF, the furry, wise-cracking alien life form who crashed to Earth and lived with the Tanner family, was on TV. Stranger yet, I can recall one of Alf's regular quotes from the sitcom, "Hey, you crawl under people's houses, you hear things," which applied to his interactions with their nosy neighbor, Mrs. Ochmonek. Now, I've provided this random, unexpected trip down memory lane to get to this point. When you spend a significant amount of time in the deer woods and traveling to hunting spots, you see, hear, and experience things worth sharing.

This year's deer season brought a lot of firsts I cannot recall encountering before. On the final day of firearms deer season, Dec. 9, as I was walking in the darkness at 6 AM up in Venango County with my red-lens headlamp, I almost stepped on a dawdling porcupine. I use a red-lens as opposed to white-lens light, since from my military experience, it does not affect one's night vision. When you turn off a red-lens light you can see clearly immediately, as opposed to white lights, which requires your eyes several minutes to adjust to the darkness. I considered taking the porcupine's photo, but I knew the flash would mess with my night vision, and I already have dozens of good porcupine photos from past encounters.

Ten days earlier, before the calendar switched from Nov. to Dec., I was hunting close to the Shenango River and in the fading light between sunset and quitting time, I initially heard the distinct whistling sound, before I saw them. In the course of five minutes, I saw three different small flocks of wood ducks come barreling through the tree tops at incredible speeds, like tiny, highly-maneuverable fighter jets. It was the latest into Nov. I can ever remember seeing wood ducks present in PA and I'm not sure what kept those 17 wood ducks up north, when their kin had already migrated south to much warmer weather.

You've probably heard the magician's expression: "Now you see it, now you don't!" Similar to how I can't explain how some magic tricks/optical illusions are performed, there are times out in the woods I just can't explain why things are different, but they are. I had the recent experience of hunting in the same general area two days in a row. The temperature, wind direction, weather conditions were almost identical from one day to the next. However, the first day there was almost zero activity in the woods, the absence of birds and squirrels was obvious. The following day was a complete opposite. I watched 15-squirrels out feeding and performing their antics, while I counted 17 different species of song birds, including many Winter birds who annually migrate south to our area. It always puzzles me as to what was different between the two days, other than time had elapsed after the previous cold front passed and their growing appetites forced them to come out of their sanctuaries and seek necessary calories to sustain their bodies.

Going back through the memories, I can't ever recall seeing two different bald eagles during deer season, but this year I did. Continuing my ongoing trend of seeing bald eagles throughout Western PA on almost a weekly basis, we saw the first one on Pulaski-Mercer Road, just north of where it crosses under Interstate 80. The bald eagle was feeding on a road-killed red fox and my son got a few tremendous photos as I stopped the vehicle to observe. The second one flew over at tree top level up on PA-86 near the outflow from Woodcock Creek Lake in Crawford County. A week earlier, we saw a beautiful rainbow really close by Oil Creek State Park. Now, if I ever get a photo of a bald eagle with a rainbow in the background, I'll have a "once-in-a-lifetime" shot to treasure. I'll keep looking and continue taking photos.

In spite of a prolific chestnut oak acorn crop in many places I hunt in Venango County, I was surprised by the lack of turkey sightings and dearth of turkey scratching during my time in the woods. However, we did see a flock of some 40 turkeys up along PA-965, west of Polk, to restore our faith in their presence. In my extensive ramblings, it never ceases to amaze me how old foundations, roads, and oil wells turn up in the most remote, unexpected locations. Putting time in the woods and accumulating miles walked, you just never know what you'll see or hear during deer season! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

Christmas Wonder

Read: 1 Chronicles 16:7-13

Remember His marvelous works which He has done. —1 Chronicles 16:12

After my first semester in seminary, my family was given airline tickets to fly home for Christmas. The night before our flight, we realized we had less than $20 for the trip. Parking, transportation, and other incidentals were certain to cost more than $20. Heartsick, we resolved to pray about it. Though our children were small (6 and 2), we included them in the prayer time.

As we were praying, we heard footsteps in the hallway of the apartment building, and then "whisk"—the sound of an envelope sliding under the door. Inside the envelope was an anonymous gift of $50.

The wonder reflected on our 6-year-old daughter's face matched the wonder in our own hearts. Here was a mighty God writing His name on a little girl's heart by hearing and answering our prayer in the same instant. And so we, like the psalmist David, could "talk of all His wondrous works!" (1 Chron. 16:9).

So it was that first Christmas night, when a mighty, all-knowing, all-powerful God wrote His name on the heart of humanity, stunning us with the generosity of forgiveness and the joy of unconditional love. The birth of Christ is the answer to our most fervent prayers for love and forgiveness. Can you feel the wonder?

Lord, restore to me the wonder of Christmas,
felt most keenly when I first met Jesus;
for I long to tell the story with all the joy it brought me that day.

A wonder-filled life is ours when we know the Christ of Christmas.

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• My personal holiday rule is simple: When in doubt, leave it out. My best memories of holidays involve the people who I spend time with, not the place setting or the exact perfect gift. Happy Holidays, JoAnn
• Delegate table tasks that are age-appropriate to your children for holiday gatherings that you host. Children like to have a job, and they are better behaved when they have a focus and make a contribution. P.S.G. in SC ©2023 King Features Synd., Inc.
