A Few Last-Minute Outdoor-Oriented Christmas Gift Suggestions

It can be tough finding the perfect gift for the outdoorsmen, women, and youths in your life. Especially, if you are not an outdoor participant yourself or if they are one of those individuals who are very difficult to buy for because they already have everything. Wanting to help our readers with suggestions for either a significant Christmas gift or potential stocking-stuffers, I sat down and compiled a list of outdoor gear items I have and use on a regular basis that many folks probably overlook or don't give much thought to.

Here they are in no particular order for you to consider, if you're struggling to find something last minute.

1. Multi-Tool – I happen to carry a Leatherman, but any quality multi-tool with its pair of pliers, knife, screwdriver, and assorted other blades can be invaluable in many situations. I have used mine to make repairs, extricate fish-hooks, remove porcupine quills, twist wire, cut cordage, and a variety of other uses. Going back to my military service and continuing today, having a multi-tool on-hand is very helpful.

2. Fishing Net – From my experience, more big fish are lost at the boat or on the bank than at any other point after hooking up. Having a good net present helps significantly increase the odds of catching a good fish. I have three different size nets from a small wooden one for trout to a massive one for catfish. Find out what species your angler pursues and get them an appropriate net to successfully land more fish.

3. Tow Strap – If you have 4-wheel drive vehicle, you should always carry a tow strap in order to pull out another stranded motorist from a ditch, mudhole, or snowbank; or the time may come when you are one needing help. The more time you spend off-road or in the backcountry, the more you need a tow strap.

4. Foam Seat Cushion – There's an old saying, "the brain can only absorb as much as the backside can endure". Sitting uncomfortably, whether in a tree stand, on a rock/log, or out in a canoe can affect your ability to be comfortable, stay quiet, and remain focused. It's a little thing that can make a big difference.

5. Compass – Guess what? There are still major parts of the PA "Big Woods" where cell coverage is spotty and batteries go dead. Rather than depending solely on a navigation App or a GPS device, it's a good idea to have a working compass and the knowledge how to use it when navigating remote terrain.

6. Headlamp – In my opinion, having a hands-free lighting option that shines the light wherever you turn your head looks is the preferred way to get around at night whether you are hunting, fishing, hiking, or camping. I like a headlamp that gives the option of either red or white light to preserve my night vision.

7. Chem-Lights – The option of taking one out and cracking the internal contents to start the chemical reaction to produce light for hours is awesome. They can be used to mark a downed deer at night, light up a fishing rod tip in the dark, or mark a trip hazard, like a tent guy-line. Inexpensive with so many uses.

8. Firearms Cleaning Kit – Here's a dirty secret. Lots of people like shooting firearms, but there are some folks who don't enjoy cleaning them. Procrastination and avoidance are common behaviors. Get your shooter a cleaning kit of the correct caliber and encourage them to give their firearm(s) proper care.

9. Knife Sharpener – A knife is a tool and to work properly it needs to be sharpened periodically and correctly. A sharp knife makes cutting tasks easier and is actually safer to work with when needed.

10. 550-Cord/Paracord – Initially designed for and still used for attaching parachute canopies to a paratrooper's risers, this small diameter nylon line has a 550-lb. tensile strength, hence its name. It comes in a myriad of colors and there are countless uses for it around a campsite. I always take some afield.

11. Fire Starter – If you have to spend a night in the woods, fire can be your best friend, since it can provide light, warmth, companionship, cook food, and signal rescuers. Always carry a portable lighter (i.e.: Bic) and it's a good idea to have a back-up you know how to use: ferro rod, flint & steel, etc.

12. Insulated Bottle – Thermos is just one brand, but any quality stainless steel insulated bottle that can provide a cup of piping hot coffee, tea, or hot chocolate on a cold day is worth its weight when outdoors. It's amazing how you feel the warmth immediately throughout your body after consuming a hot beverage.

Hopefully, this list has given you a few ideas and if not, there is always the treasured gift card to your friend or loved one's favorite outdoor retailer. In the midst of the holiday bustle, please don't forget the true "Reason for the Season"; that Christ was born on that first Christmas morning and he came to Earth as part of God's plan for salvation for each and every one of us. (John 3:16) May you grow closer to Him this Christmas and enjoy precious time with those you love! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2023

Our Daily Bread

The Meaning Of Christmas

The Word became flesh and dwelt among us.
 John 1:14 Read: Luke 1:26-38

Each year it seems that Christ's birth is acknowledged less and less during the Christmas season. An editorial in a British newspaper stated, "Christ has been detached from Christmas, and the season is now apparently just a time for being kind and ensuring that no one is lonely."

We have a magnificent opportunity to spread the good news that Jesus is the reason for the season. Here are three perspectives on the true meaning of Christmas that we can share with others:

* Christmas is a birthday celebration, honoring Jesus. God's Son took on human flesh and "dwelt among us" (John 1:14).

* Jesus came for our sake. He was born to die on a cross for our sins, and He was resurrected to give us forgiveness and eternal life (1 Corinthians 15:3-4).

* We can urge people to respond to Jesus with faith, accepting His offer of salvation (John 1:12; 3:16).

This time of year is more than just a season to be kind. Christmas is about Jesus—the real reason for the season. So let's take the opportunity to tell others the miraculous story of Jesus, God's Son. And let's pray that many, like the wise men who came to worship the promised Savior (Matthew 2:1-2), will seek Him and find Him this year.

When we look beyond the manger
 To the cross of Calvary,
 We will know the reason
 Christmas brings such joy to you and me. —D. De Haan

Bethlehem's stable was the first step in God's journey of love to the cross.

Paws Corner

by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My aunt and uncle insist on bringing their toy poodle, Frank, to the family gathering at my house this Christmas. The trouble is that my cat, Maximilian, cannot stand any dog. Especially Frank. Last year, Maxi chased Frank all around the house and scratched his snout pretty badly. I know they're going to bring Frank again, because they bring him everywhere. I don't want to tell them not to come. How can I have peace in the house this holiday? - Shane in Hyde Park, New York

DEAR SHANE: I'm already envisioning your aunt and uncle as the sort who let their poodle run rampant throughout the house, clambering on laps and begging for bits of food under the table, right? And they want everyone to think of Frank as a charming little guy.

Maxi's aggression toward Frank isn't surprising. Cats are territorial, and most instinctively don't like dogs. Some barely tolerate other cats. Frank's presence is very stressful for Maxi, and one visit a year will not help the two become more socialized.

Since Frank is coming to the party no matter what, you need to concentrate on reducing Maxi's stress and plan for ways to keep him comfortable and away from the poodle. Designate a room in your house as Maxi's refuge on the day of the family gathering. Place his bedding, toys, food and water in it and keep him there during the event.

What if the gathering takes place over two or more days? You'll need to talk with your aunt and uncle and work out a schedule so that Maxi can roam the house while Frank is placed in a room, and vice versa. ©2023 King Features Synd., Inc.

* Kellogg's All-Bran cereal is actually 87% bran.
* By 2018, more than 100 people living in the U.S. owed at least $1 million in federal student loans.

Even Exchange

by Donna Pettman

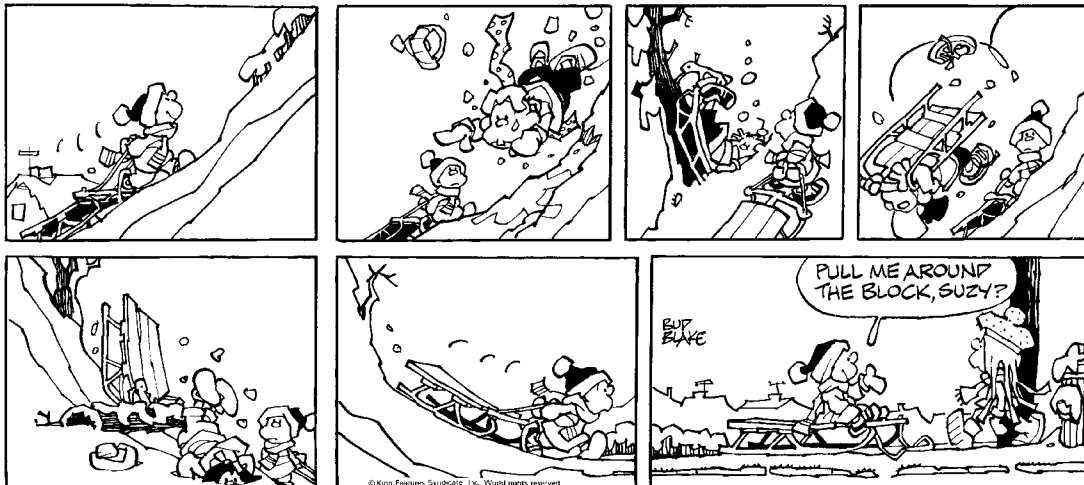

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

- When you want to sear meat, make sure you pat it dry using either paper towels or a kitchen cloth specifically for that purpose. Any moisture on the meat will cause it to steam cook.
- Try this chef's trick for a juicy bird: After seasoning, cover the bird with cheesecloth or muslin secured with string. Baste over the cloth every 15 minutes. In the last 20 minutes, remove the cloth so that the skin can crisp. ©2023 King Features Synd., Inc.
