Outdoor Opportunities

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

The Fascination, Fun, Friendship, and Foibles of Flintlocks (Part 2 of 2)

Our recently concluded flintlock season was very special in more ways than one. Particularly, when it came to the individuals I had the privilege to hunt together with. Our President of the PA Outdoor Writers Association, Jerry Bush, is a great friend from Hermitage and we got to pursue whitetails together on three separate days: Dec. 29, Jan. 4, and Jan. 15 in Mercer and Crawford Counties. He took me to one of his favorite spots in WMU 1A near Jackson Center and I shared one of my preferred locations up in WMU 1B above Cochran with him. There's just something about spending time with a fellow writer, who is equally passionate about hunting and conveying that love of the outdoors into words for readers. I find I'm constantly learning from Jerry when we're together (he's like an older brother I never had), whether we're talking about the outdoors, hunting, shooting, writing, family, friendship, or our faith.

Additionally, I had the opportunity to cross paths with an old friend, who was instrumental in my overall college experience at Penn State from 1981-85. I like to say I received a well-rounded college education from three factors that helped shape me into the man I am today. One is what I learned in the classroom. Two was the impact of Army ROTC. But, the third was my time at Delta Theta Sigma (DTS), an Agricultural Professional Fraternity at Main Campus. My Freshman year, before I obtained my three-year Army ROTC Scholarship, I had a work-study job at the Penn State horse barns. There, while I was feeding horses and cleaning stalls, the guys from DTS found me and invited me out to the house. One of the individuals, who I looked up to and was instrumental in me rushing the house and eventually getting my bid was Tom Sutton. Tom graduated in 1983 and we had only crossed paths a few times in the past 40-years before this past Holiday season. After talking for a few minutes catching up, we learned we both had a passion for flintlock hunting and his brother has a cabin near Sugar Lake in Crawford County. After we determined we both hunted the Erie National Wildlife Refuge and the same PA State Game Lands, it was decided we definitely needed to get together for a flintlock hunt during the 2023-24 season.

On Friday, Dec. 29, Jerry and I made our way up to Crawford County early, so I could show him around the area we would be hunting. Tom provided directions to his brother Rick's camp and we arrived before Tom got in from Ohio. We walked into the very modern camp and quickly found Rick just as gregarious as Tom. (It's funny how siblings can look, talk, and have similar mannerisms, so if you know one, you feel like you know the other.) What immediately caught my eye were the incredible mounts Rick had on the wall, true Crawford County behemoth bucks. Shortly, after our arrival, Tom pulled in and then Rick's son Brent, along with his friend, Kenny. Our day with the Sutton Clan, when we put on four deer drives with our flintlocks, was truly special and something I'll never forget. I'm the only one who saw deer on all four drives, whether I was driving on the first push or taking a stand on the next three. The Erie National Wildlife Refuge is full of swamps and let's just say the deer aren't afraid to get their feet or even their bellies wet. Unfortunately, I never had the chance to take a shot, because all the deer I saw were either just tails when jumped in the high reeds, going past on the run, or across deep waters.

Now, I'm not going to name names, but we had our fair share of foibles to keep us all amused. Someone forgot their pan charger, someone didn't have 4F priming powder, someone took a shot at a moving deer and then couldn't get reloaded quickly enough when a deer momentarily stood by them afterward, and someone forgot to put 4F priming powder in their pan, so when they did have a shot at close range, their flint hit their frizzen and made sparks, but there wasn't a flash in the pan. That day, three guys had shots (one took two), no venison was obtained, but it was still one of my most memorable flintlock days ever!

On a Jan. 4 hunt, Jerry forgot his possible bag in the truck, but that was resolved by loaning him a patched round ball and 3F powder. Not to be outdone, I left my ramrod at home on Jan. 15. However, I was able to "MacGyver" a solution. I know how deep a patched roundball has to be seated in my rifle, so I started my reload with my short ball starter and then used a very straight stick to seat it the rest of the way. The reason I did this was because unlike last year when I harvested an Armstrong County antlerless deer on the last day of the season, this year's Crawford County doe had an intervening small branch that deflected my roundball at 40-yards and resulted in a "still shaking my head" miss. Of course, it's all the little things that make flintlock hunting so compelling! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2024

Porcupine Meatballs

1 lb. lean ground beef
1/2 C. uncooked rice
1/2 C. water
1/3 C. chopped onion
1 tsp. kosher salt
1/2 tsp. celery salt
1/8 tsp. garlic powder
1/8 tsp. ground black pepper
1 Tbsp. canola oil
15 oz. can tomato sauce
1 C. low sodium chicken stock
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. granulated sugar

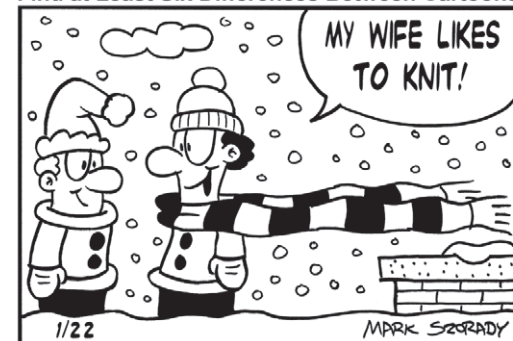

•Gather all ingredients. Mix ground beef, rice, water, onion, salt, celery salt, garlic powder, and black pepper thoroughly in a bowl until well combined. Roll mixture into 12 meatballs. Heat oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat. Place meatballs into the hot skillet; cook, turning once halfway through cooking, until well browned, about 8 minutes. Drain and discard excess grease. Pour tomato sauce, chicken stock, Worcestershire sauce, and sugar into the skillet; reduce heat to medium-low. Cover and simmer until meatballs are no longer pink in the center and rice is tender, about 45 minutes. Stir in more stock if sauce becomes too dry.

Brotherhood Of The Sea Now, therefore, you are . . . fellow citizens with the saints. —Ephesians 2:19. Read: Eph. 2:14-22

On August 8, 2005, the world learned of the dramatic rescue of seven Russian sailors trapped in a small sub entangled in a fishing net. The men had survived 3 cold, dark days on the bottom of the ocean and had less than 6 hours of oxygen left. Meanwhile, up above, a frantic, unified rescue effort by Russian, Japanese, British, and American personnel was underway. Finally, the sub was freed. The Russian Defense Minister praised the operation, saying, "We have seen in deeds, not in words, what the brotherhood of the sea means."

The book of Ephesians talks about the unity of believers in Jesus by referring to the oneness of "the household of God" (2:19). The Gentiles, who were once "aliens" and "strangers" (v.12), had now been "brought near by the blood of Christ" (v.13), uniting them with their Jewish brothers and sisters. This unity is to permeate the efforts of the Christian community today. By David C. Egner

Believers in Jesus are commissioned to undertake the most important rescue effort. People are dying without Christ. Praise God that united mission efforts are bringing hope, salvation, education, and relief to desperate people around the world. That's what the brotherhood of Christ is all about.

In Christ there is no East or West, In Him no South or North, But one great fellowship of love Throughout the whole wide earth. —Oxenham

A healthy church is the best witness to a hurting world.
