Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

• In Japan, male students can confess their love to another person by giving them the second button – the one closest to the heart – from the top of their school uniform.

• In 1818, the U.S. began building a fort near the New York-Quebec border to defend against invasions from Canada. After two years they realized the fort was actually on the Canadian side. The abandoned project was appropriately named Fort Blunder.

Outdoor Opportunities

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

The POWA Conference - When a Meeting is more like a Family Reunion (Part 1 of 2)

If I told you I was going to a multi-day meeting where some of the most senior members have been getting together for more than five decades, where mutual respect and admiration abound, handshakes and hugs are “the norm” upon arrival, the sharing of stories and astute mentoring go on continuously, and new members are welcomed with open arms; you might think I’m talking about the ideal family reunion. That family just might exist out there somewhere, but I’m actually talking about the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Outdoor Writers Association (POWA), which I first attended in May 2013, shortly after launching my second career as an outdoor writer, here in the pages of the Weekly Bargain Bulletin on March 1, 2013. No one thing has enhanced my maturation in telling “the outdoors’ story” more than becoming part of this fine organization composed of diverse professional outdoor communicators, which include: freelance writers, newspaper and magazine columnists, book authors, TV show hosts, radio broadcasters, bloggers, podcasters, outdoor-oriented agency/organization communication directors, outdoor educators, artists, photographers, and recently, a sculptor. We work in a wide variety of mediums.

Like many organizations, after you’ve been involved for a while and “learn the ropes,” they ask you to become involved in a leadership role. At our 2021 conference in West Middlesex, I was asked to fill a one-year term as a board member. In 2022 in Mansfield, I was humbled to be elected 2nd Vice President. Last year in State College, my peers extolled the honor of making me 1st Vice President. That position brought the responsibility of serving on the four-person Conference Committee for our 2024 POWA gathering in Wilkes Barre, May 16-19, 2024. Planning and coordination for 2024 started early in June 2023 and included several site visits over the past year to the Holiday Inn-Wilkes Barre (East Mountain), where our conference was headquartered, and to Frances Slocum State Park, where our Friday afternoon outdoor activities were held. The registration table opened at noon on Thurs., May 16, and I had the privilege of helping to welcome all our arriving members as there were hearty greetings, since most of us had not seen each other in a year, except for monthly video conferences. Thurs. evening’s informal dinner was attended by 25 members and accompanying family members, and it soon became obvious it would be a great conference with tremendous camaraderie. Like all three nights, the hospitality suite from 8 PM until the last folks decided to call it a night, was a perpetual fountain of stories, laughs, and sharing.

The conference kicked into full gear on Fri. morning when our outdoor communicators went their separate ways to participate in the outdoor activity of their choosing. The earliest departures were the turkey hunters (guided by National Wild Turkey Federation Members), but the fly-fishing trout fisherman (guided by a Trout Unlimited member), lure-casting bass fisherman (on the boats of Suskie Bassmasters members), the bird-watchers (led by an Audubon Society Guide), and the Ricketts Glen waterfall hikers (led by a State Park staff member) were out the hotel doors soon behind. I was one of five members who opted for the three-mile kayak fishing excursion on the Susquehanna River (which I’ll cover next week).

Fri. afternoon we all gathered at a lake-side pavilion at nearby Frances Slocum State Park. At 2:30 PM, we were treated to a highly informative update from Tim Schaffer, Executive Director of the PA Fish & Boat Commission, followed by an interactive question & answer session. This preceded a professional boating safety demonstration from two PFBC Waterways Conservation Officers. They covered life preserver types, proper wear, and demonstrated deployment of a self-inflating life preserver, along with standard boarding procedures for watercraft inspection, using one of their new patrol boats. Their 90-minute session was followed by a highly-engaging talk by the State Park’s Environmental Education Specialist, Kathy Kelchner, on the history of Frances Slocum, who was taken captive by a Delaware War Party in the Wyoming Valley (present day Wilkes Barre area) as a young girl in 1778 and lived the remainder of her life as a respected member of a Native American tribe. Fri. evening’s BBQ was hosted by the PA Game Commission and included an update from Dave Mitchell, Asst. Director of PGC Field Operations. His comments focused on new doe license procedures (a subject I’ll cover in detail in June).

Next week, I’ll also cover Sat.’s events experienced by the quill. (Quill is a rather seldom-used and abstract term for a group of writers. It references a quill pen, used by writers in days of yore.) There is so much crammed into a POWA Conference and it’s all good! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

Let us not grow weary while doing good.
Galatians 6:9 Read: Galatians 6:6-10

My friend Dan, who was soon to graduate from high school, was required to make a senior presentation. He had 15 minutes to share how he had made it to the point of graduation and to thank those who had helped him along the way.

He began to talk about the ways each person had touched his life. One woman had "been like an aunt and had always been there" for him. A 30-something man "shared Scriptures often and gave counsel." Another man had "taught him discipline and hard work." A church friend had "taken him to football practice every day" because his mom couldn't. A couple had "treated him like he was their own son." One commonality—they were all just ordinary Christians who had reached out to make a difference in his life.

We can help shape another person's life by showing an interest and taking action. And, as happened with Dan, we can reap a harvest (v.9). by Anne Cetas

• As astronauts spend months traveling to Mars, their eyeballs may change shape. Some scientists believe that's due to the pressure from fluids that won't drain from their heads, thanks to the low-gravity environment.

• A bloodhound in Alabama went outside to relieve itself and accidentally joined a half marathon, then ended up in seventh place. The race was redubbed the "Hound Dog Half," and those who end up in seventh place earn a special award.

• Laser removal doesn't actually remove a tattoo. It just helps break it down so the body's white blood cells can carry it away. Eventually, you poop it out.

Now Here's A Tip
by JoAnn Derson

• When wrapping vegetables in foil packets to grill, make the seams on the sides. This way, the veggie packets can be turned over for even cooking and to avoid burning on one side. You can even label the outside of the foil in permanent marker. It won't affect the taste of the food. ©2024 King Features Synd., Inc.

• Want to pump up a dying fire? Never use lighter fluid. Even if the coals look really gray, they could be hot on the inside. The stream of fluid CAN catch fire. Put new briquettes in with the old, and light those up using a long-stick match.
• "Keep flareups from unintentional blackening: Keep a clean spray bottle filled with plain water next to the grill. Long after you're done cooking and you're ready to clean up those ashes from briquettes, mist the ashes first, and it will keep them from making a dust cloud." – U.L. in Georgia

by JoAnn Derson

• From charcoal grilling expert Kingsford, here's a great tip to use when grilling chicken: "When applying a dry rub to chicken pieces, it's often hard to keep the rub affixed and it's even more difficult to keep the chicken's original, golden color. Try painting chicken pieces with yellow mustard prior to applying the rub. Not only will the rub stay in place, your final product will be visually appealing – without any trace of mustard flavor."

• To cover a picnic table in windy conditions, choose a fitted bed sheet. An alternative that is kid-friendly is to cover a table entirely with white butcher paper, taped at the seams and secured underneath with strong tape such as duct tape. The kids can busy themselves drawing placemats and decorations for everyone in crayon while the adults do the grilling.
