Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

• If you were drafted during the American Civil War, you could legally pay someone $300 (roughly equivalent to $5,000 earned by an unskilled worker in 2018) to go in your place. The practice, known as commutation, was actually intended to raise money for the war effort. * Hard-rocker Ozzy Osbourne once fell asleep during a driving test and woke up to find a note on the seat that said, "You have failed." But give him credit for persistence: After 19 attempts, he finally managed to pass the test in 2009 at the age of 60, and then purchased a Ferrari.

• In 1925, a war between Greece and Bulgaria started after a stray dog crossed their border. ©2024 King Features

DEAR PAW'S CORNER:

We have a contractor coming soon to renovate our kitchen. I plan to keep my cat, "Freya," out of the way and in a separate room during the day. But at night, she'll want to wander the house. How do I keep her out of the kitchen? - Jim in Portland, ME

DEAR JIM: Cats are pretty wily, and I'm sure Freya will try to find a way around any barriers you set up to keep her out of the kitchen.

The best way to dissuade her from exploring the construction area, therefore, is to tempt her away with better distractions. That means moving her food and water to a new location far from the construction area (but out of heavy foot traffic) and giving her treats and attention whenever she opts to stay in the living room with you or near her bedding and food.

At night, tighten the barriers around the kitchen - if there's a door, close it. If there is plastic sheeting up, tack it to surrounding walls and tape it to the floor. Put a sheet of plywood across the entrance if necessary.

Inside the work area, make sure that the contractors put away all sharp tools and cover any containers tightly. They should clean up any debris at the end of each day and use a wet-dry vacuum to pick up sawdust and dirt. Any spills need to be cleaned completely. This will reduce the risk to Freya if she manages to get into the kitchen, and it's just good practice.

Recipe Corner
Divas on a Dime

4 cups strawberries, about 2 lbs.
1 lemon, zest, and juice
2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 (3 oz.) pouch liquid pectin, for freezer jam

STRAWBERRY
FREEZER JAM

Wash and finely dice the strawberries. Use a fork or potato masher to crush some of the berries. They can be mashed well or left chunky. Just be sure you have 4 cups of berries total. Place them in a large mixing bowl. Wash your lemon and grate 1 teaspoon of zest, then squeeze the lemon, hoping for around 2 tablespoons of juice. A little more or less juice won't harm anything. Add the zest, juice and sugar to the strawberries. Mix very well and let this rest for 10 minutes while the sugar dissolves. Once the sugar has dissolved, stir in the pectin, a little at a time, until well incorporated. Continue gently stirring for 5 minutes. Set yourself a timer so you don't skip on this step. Let the jam rest for 2 minutes. Stir for 2 minutes more. Yes, it's a lot of stirring. If you have children, I imagine they would enjoy stirring jam. Pour into freezer jam containers or glass jars. Allow room for expansion in your containers. Keep jam in the freezer for up to a year. Thaw slightly in the fridge before enjoying. Yield: 5 cups

Now Here's A Tip by JoAnn Derson

• M.C. in Arizona would like to know some alternative uses for hair conditioner. Here goes: use as a shaving lotion for legs or face; a makeup remover; ouch-free bandage removal; soften makeup brushes or paintbrushes before storage; get knots out of doll hair or costume wigs; wash delicates (think silks and pantyhose); rub on a shower rod to help curtain glide effortlessly; and lastly, soak a shrunken sweater in a conditioner/water solution to soften the fibers, then gently try stretching the sweater back to size.

GUARDING AGAINST STUBBING THE CLUB IN THE GRASS BEHIND THE BALL, WHICH WOULD DISRUPT THE ENTIRE SWING, IS ANOTHER REASON.

THE FINAL AND MOST IMPORTANT ONE IS THAT NOT GROUNDING THE CLUB PROMOTES SLOW, SMOOTH INITIATION OF THE SWING.

Outdoor Opportunities

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

The POWA Conference - When a Meeting is more like a Family Reunion (Part 2 of 2)

Anticipation and excitement. Those two words probably best describe the emotions coursing through my body whenever I fish a new waterway for the first time. That was recently the case on Fri., May 17, at the 2024 Pennsylvania Outdoor Writers Association (POWA) Conference in Wilkes Barre, when I was one of five members signed up for the kayak fishing excursion on the Susquehanna River. Now, I've fished the Susquehanna my entire life, but that's been down near Harrisburg, where the river is almost a mile wide. This time we would be almost 90-river miles upriver in Luzerne County, near the small town of Shickshinny, where the river is only 300-yards wide, hemmed in by forested ridges with picturesque rocky outcroppings. My fishing companions were fellow POWA Members: John Allen (Cumberland Co.), Tyler Frantz (Lebanon Co.), Ben Moyer (Fayette Co.), and Wade Robertson (McKean Co.).

Our host was Brian Swingle, owner of Five Mountain Outfitters in Shickshinny. We were chomping at the bit, waiting behind the building at 9:20 AM, and introduced ourselves to Brian when he arrived to open for the day. Five Mountain Outfitters operates out of a former church building and Brian gave us a detailed tour of his facility with kayaks on the ground floor and an extensive array of fishing tackle and kayaking accessories on the top floor. After Brian covered the stretch of river we would be fishing on the map, offered some valuable fishing tips based on his experience as a former professional kayak fisherman, and we signed our mandatory release forms; we loaded up three rental kayaks for Ben, Wade, and myself, and John and Tyler's fishing kayaks they had brought along, and piled into the van for the 3-mile drive upriver to the PFBC boat launch. It was 10:45 AM until we got on the water, but it was a beautiful partly sunny day with the temperature around 70° F and ample hope the fish would be biting.

We were told we would pass by three islands floating downstream and to focus our casts along the rock-strewn shoreline, which was initially along the eastern bank, but would become prevalent along the western bank half-way downstream. I started out with a pair of my favorite smallmouth bass lures on the two rods I brought along. The first rod had a #11 Rapala silver & black original floating minnow (11-cm / 4.3-inches), which I've caught smallmouth and a wide variety of other species on in the past; while my second rod pitched a 3-inch green Gitzit tube lure to work the bottom with its rubber tentacles. We all had limited success along the eastern bank for the first 45-min. I only had one strike on my Rapala, so I decided to try the western bank near the top of the first island to do something different from my peers. When my two "Go To" lures still didn't produce within 10-minutes, I decided a radical change was in order. I switched to a smaller 2-inch white Sassy Shad on a 1/16-ounce jig head and began employing a slower retrieve to work the bottom with intermittent bounces as the lure's paddle tail vibrated wildly. On my second cast, a juvenile smallmouth took my Sassy Shad and they progressively got bigger. Sadly, around Noon, just as I was about to lift my lure out of the water to start another cast, a chunky 14-inch smallmouth rocketed up from the bottom and grabbed the backend of the Sassy Shad without getting to the jig's hook, thereby nipping off the critical paddle tail. I did end up catching smallmouths on a much smaller #5 Rapala and on a silver/black Gitzit, before we had to be off the water by 1:15 PM in order to return the kayaks and get to Frances Slocum State Park for our next events. Brian invited us all to return sometime on a Monday (his day off) to fish a longer stretch with him as our guide. I may take him up on his offer, since it takes time to learn new water and the bald eagles I saw seemed to be inviting me back.

Saturday evening was our annual Excellence-In-Craft Awards Banquet. As the new Awards Committee Chairman in my first-year, it culminated 4-months of work compiling 389 entries from 37 members across the 30 categories. I could not have done it without the 60+ amazing individuals who volunteered their time, experience, and expertise to serve as our judges. Amongst my outstanding judges were WBB readers: Wayne Anderson, Mark Bryan, Steve Dickinson, Carson Drake, Dr. David Mistretta, Ron Nagel, Dr. Burton Nessler, Tom O'Brien, Colton Osborne, Jesse Putnam, and Gary Weimer. A heartfelt thank you to you all for your assistance! My personal highlight of our entire conference was being elected POWA President for 2024-25 by my many professional outdoor communicator peers from across PA on Sat. afternoon. It is a humbling honor and privilege, and a story for another day that was 11-years in the making, starting right here in the pages of the WBB! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2024

Antiques and Collecting
by Terry and Kim Kovel

Q: I have a 1956 Wurlitzer jukebox, Model 1900, that has never been refinished. It has high fidelity, original speakers and plays 200 45RPM records. It's in good working order. Can you tell me the value?

A: Wurlitzer was founded in 1856 in Cincinnati, Ohio, by Rudolph Wurlitzer. He was a recent immigrant from Germany and imported musical instruments from his family's business. Wurlitzer began making pianos in 1880. The first Wurlitzer jukeboxes were made in 1934. The Wurlitzer Centennial Model 1900 was made in 1955 and 1956 to celebrate the 100th birthday of the company. About 12,500 were made. Wurlitzer sold its jukebox brand to Deutsche Wurlitzer GmbH, a German subsidiary, in 1974 and that company continued to make Wurlitzer jukeboxes until 2013. If you want to sell your jukebox, see if a local store buys and sells them, check websites that sell jukeboxes or contact an auction that specializes in coin-operated machines. A Wurlitzer Model 1900 with 245 records sold for about $4,000 two years ago. However, we have seen a model with 200 records sell for as much as $8,000, so it's worth your while to do some additional research.

The Garden Bug

Poison ivy

It's very common to see the three-leaved poison ivy plant when doing yardwork or hiking in the woods. Any part of your body that contacts the urushiol oil in its leaves, stems and roots may get an extremely itchy or painful rash that can last days or even weeks! If you must work near this plant or are trying to remove it, use heavy gloves, and wear as much protective clothing and gear as you can, including goggles or a shield for your eyes. Carefully remove these items and wash separately when finished. - Brenda Weaver

Bake Power Bars For A Summer Outing

Neighborhoods hum and bustle with an extra dose of activity this time of year, and some households, like the Gustafson's, seem to be especially on the go – make that “on the run,” but in a good kind of way. Watching the action from the sidelines, I can't help but be inspired by this fit family. Ranging in ages 8-14, all four kids play hockey, baseball/softball, and tennis, and two play soccer. Toss in the parents, and biking trumps driving the car whenever possible.

No wonder mom Angie always has her favorite chewy power bar recipe handy for easy reference. She and the kids enjoy making the tasty snack that is chock-full of healthy ingredients, including flaxseed, wheat germ and raisins. Reese's Pieces are added to the mix, but she controls the amount.

“The original online ‘Ultimate Power Bar’ recipe, which has been passed from friend to friend, comes from Lunds, our neighborhood market where you can easily find all the ingredients,” she says. “But, like most recipes I prepare, I tweak the ingredients to suit our tastes. The bars are ideal for school lunches, picnics and rest stops when we bike around town with our cycling club. I don't know a kid who doesn't like them. Even the picky eaters ask for the energy snack.”

Make a batch with your kids and enjoy Angie's version of Lunds' original recipe.

- ANGIE'S
ULTIMATE POWER BAR
Makes 36 bars
- 3 1/2 cups oats
 - 1/2 cup raisins
 - 1/2 cup shredded coconut
 - 2/3 cup sunflower seeds
 - 1/2 cup toasted sesame seeds
 - 1/2 cup wheat germ
 - 1/2 cup oat bran
 - 3 tablespoons flaxseeds
 - 1 tablespoon cinnamon
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 1/2 cups natural peanut butter
 - 1 cup honey
 - 4 tablespoons butter, melted
 - 3/4 cup Reese's Pieces

Preheat oven to 350 F. In a large bowl, let one child combine the first 10 ingredients with a big spoon. Continue stirring while another child adds the peanut butter, honey and melted butter. When mixed, stir in Reese's Pieces.

Spoon mixture into an ungreased 9-by-13-inch glass pan. Use a spatula to pack and press it down firmly. Bake 15-17 minutes. Let cool, then chill completely before slicing. Store bars in stacks separated by waxed paper in a covered container in the refrigerator.

• Make your own “hot pocket” using rice: Fill an empty sock with rice to about three-fourths full. Tie or sew closed. Create a pouch by using a bandana to wrap it up; either tie or sew the bandana into a removable pocket. To use, microwave the sock for 1 to 1 1/2 minutes. Remove carefully. Remove bandana and wash from time to time.

• Keep your dishcloths and sponges germ-free and smelling sweet. Once weekly soak them overnight in a few cups of water to which you've added a tablespoon or so of bleach. It will keep them from developing that mildew smell.

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• Save power with this tip: Use cold water to wash towels and jeans. Then hang them to dry – preferably outside, but on an inside line is OK, too. When they are mostly dry, pop them in the dryer on air dry to fluff up. Towels and jeans take the longest to dry in the clothes dryer, and use a lot of electricity. ©2024 King Features Synd., Inc.

Our Daily Bread

What's Wrong With That?

Read: Acts 10:1-8

Cornelius [was] a devout man and one who feared God with all his household. —Acts 10:1-2

A prominent senator was dropped from the "Green Book"—the list of Washington societal elite who are invited to special functions. Why? Because he never attended the events. Instead, he went home each night to be with his family.

Then he discovered he had cancer. A difficult career choice faced him. The night before he announced his decision not to run for office again, he said to his wife, "You know, the only thing I'll probably ever be remembered for is that I loved my wife." To which she replied, "And what's wrong with that?"

Families that are built on love, respect, and togetherness instead of social climbing or the pursuit of successful careers are a nation's hope for survival. And when their values reflect a love for Jesus Christ, they hold a special place in God's plan for the world.

Cornelius was a Roman soldier who feared God even before he came to know Christ. God used him to spread the gospel to the Gentiles (Acts 10:24-48). Rome could have used more families like his.

God-fearing families provide stability to individuals and nations when adversity strikes. And there's everything right about that. by Dennis J. De Haan

Think About It... How do strong families provide stability for a nation? Did my parents teach me about Christ? How can I be a godly influence in my family? My nation?

A nation is only as strong its families.

Antiques and Collecting TIPS

by Terry and Kim Kovel

• Do not store vintage fabrics in unheated attics or basements or areas that may get hot. The best storage is between 65 and 75 degrees.

• Never put gold or platinum-trimmed dishes in the microwave. The metallic trim will spark and may damage the oven and burn the dishes.

Strange But True by Lucie Winborne

- The Aztecs regarded childbirth as a form of battle. Women who didn't survive it were thought to rise to one of the highest heavens, the same one as for male warriors who died in battle.
 - Thought for the Day: "Life is like skiing. The goal is not to get to the bottom of the hill. It's to have a bunch of good runs before the sun sets."
