Celebrating Best Of The Best

Dear Patients,

Taking care of so very many wonderful people with their hearing loss has been not only a privilege but also a great honor. Time passes and I have met so many faces and hearts that not only did I develop a professional relationship but also a personal one that will stay imbedded in my soul forever.

Thank you for allowing me to be part of your life and helping you hear the sounds of life in itself. Hoping to continue serving you as always - Donna

Q: I own four bronze sculptures by Frederic Remington. They are all about 12 inches tall. They are in very good condition. Can you give me an idea of their value?

A: Frederic Remington (1861-1909) made 22 different sculptures beginning in 1895. The first four were cast in bronze at the Henry-Bonnard Bronze Co. in New York. Beginning in 1900, his sculptures were cast at the Roman Bronze Works in New York. All his original bronzes are marked with one of those two foundry names. His bronze sculptures are the most reproduced bronzes. Most of the original sculptures are about 24 inches tall or larger. Original Remington bronzes sell at auctions for $75,000 or more. The 32-inch bronze sculpture titled "The Broncho Buster" sold for over $600,000 a few years ago. Reproductions sell for under $500. The website of the Frederic Remington Museum in Ogdensburg, New York (FredericRemington.org), has information and a form you can fill out if you think you have an original Remington sculpture.

Paws Corner by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My cat "Sticky" is 14 years old and still in great shape. He loves chasing after a laser beam and rolling around with his toys. However, I've noticed that when he comes over to leap up on my lap, he hesitates and just puts his paws on my leg and meows. I have to encourage him to leap, and he doesn't seem happy about it. Could something be wrong with him? - Janine in Gulfport, Mississippi

DEAR JANINE: At age 14, Sticky is definitely a senior cat, and it sounds like he's beginning to develop a common senior cat problem: arthritis. Just like us, cats can suffer from stiff, achy joints as they get older. You're doing a great job of observing his behavior and spotting changes in the way he interacts. Arthritis

(typically osteoarthritis, sometimes abbreviated as OA) is progressive, and sometimes not noticeable right away. There are four key things to watch for:

- Running - Does your cat run with a fast, fluid motion, or in stops and starts?
- Jumping - Does your cat hesitate to take jumps that were effortless in the past?
- Climbing - Does your cat walk or run confidently on the stairs, or hesitate on each step?
- Playing - Does your cat keep up with the laser pointer, or start to lag behind?

Other noticeable behaviors, like excessive meowing, hiding away or even occasionally missing the litter box also signal that your cat is uncomfortable or in pain. It's important to consult

THINGS THAT GO 'BOOM' IN THE SUMMER NIGHT.
 Fireworks are staples of summer, when neighborhoods sporadically light up with multicolored splendor, and distant pops can be heard on a regular basis. Most fireworks are made of a small tube called an aerial shell that contains various explosive chemicals, says the American Chemical Company. The shell has gunpowder and something called "stars," which give fireworks their color when they explode. The shell is housed in a mortar that will launch the firework into the air after a fuse is lit. Ultimately, a bursting charge of the firework explodes and ignites the black powder and stars. If the stars are randomly placed in the shell, they will produce random patterns. But many fireworks are carefully created so that the stars are placed to allow for specific patterns when the firework explodes. The following are some types of fireworks that surely will be lighting up night skies, courtesy of Sky Bacon Fireworks, Jake's Fireworks, and American Pyrotechnics Safety & Education Foundation, and Pyro City.

- Brocade: This firework has a large number of trailing stars falling slowly in an umbrella pattern. It's one of the most common firework effects.
- Cake: Sometimes called a "repeater" or a "multi-shot aerial," a cake is a firework that has a single fuse used to light several tubes in sequence. They fire at a rapid pace and can sometimes feature more than 1,000 shots. Cakes are often used as part of a show's finale.
- Chrysanthemum: This is a spherical break of colored stars that leave a visible trail of sparks.
- Crossette: A crossette is a shell that contains several large stars that travel a short distance before breaking apart into smaller stars with loud crackling sounds. This creates a criss-crossing effect.
- Dahlia: This shell produces a starfish-like shape when it bursts.
- Firecrackers: These are more about bang than flash. They lay on the ground, and when the fuse is lit, will go off one after another with a loud bang.
- Fish: These produce an aerial effect that seems like several objects swimming through the air and only lasts a few seconds.
- Fountains: These fireworks shoot between four and eight feet into the air and are very colorful. They are sometimes called "driveway items" or "safe and sane" because they don't propel like other fireworks and may be safer for novices.
- Pistol: A pistol features a center sphere of stars that burst in a spherical shape. Pistils contain an outer sphere of stars as well.
- Roman candle: This firework has a paper tube that shoots flaming balls out of one end of the tube.
- Strobe: Similar to other fireworks with a spherical break shape, this has the added effect of blinking components that makes it appear like shimmering water in the sky.
- UFO: This firework spins very fast and lifts high into the sky, where it bursts into a special aerial effect. They're sometimes called helicopters, sky flyers or planes.

There are many different types of fireworks that add bang and color to evening celebrations.

Our Daily Bread

Savor The Flavor
 Read: Galatians 3:26-29

There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus. Galatians 3:28

America has often been called "a melting pot." But obviously that is not the case. Politicians tend to fuel sensitivity to class and color divisions for their own gain. Tensions abound. Generational differences are more marked than ever. In fact, cultural observers are starting to say that the "melting pot" metaphor is outdated—that the goal should be a cultural "stew" in which the distinct taste of each ingredient is enhanced by the contribution of the other ingredients.

In a world where pride and prejudice abound, Jesus offers us the joy of unity across all the lines that so easily divide us. In His church, the unique flavors of our diverse backgrounds can complement each other, united "through faith in Christ Jesus" (Gal. 3:26) and empowered by His Spirit and our submission to His principles. In Him our diversity doesn't divide but rather unites and enriches us as we recognize that we all have Jesus, His Word, and His ways in common. As we embrace Him together, our differences become secondary and our mutual love for Him drives us to love each other as He has loved us.

Jesus is the master mixer! In His kingdom, pride and prejudice are out, and love and mutual acceptance are the order of the day. By Joe Stowell

Within the church of Jesus Christ

The joys of unity abound

When love accepts diversity

And prejudice cannot be found. —Sper

Christ's love creates unity in the midst of diversity.

Outdoor Opportunities

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

An Ode to Trek

We all have our idiosyncrasies. Some we keep to ourselves. But it's reassuring when you realize you're not the only one who does a certain behavior. Back in the summer of 2016, I was sitting in the waiting room at Mel Grata Toyota in Hermitage, as my Tundra was getting an oil change. I picked up a large book they had sitting on a table for customers to peruse. It was titled, "The Book of Names: A Toyota Love Story." It was an extensive collection, by Toyota model, of the literally thousands of names proud owners had lovingly given their own special vehicles. There were feminine, masculine, cute, funny, formal, and quirky names shared. As I scanned the many pages, I realized no one listed there had given their vehicle the same name I had fondly christened my 2008 Toyota Tundra. We had purchased the truck used in Dec. 2015 and as an outdoor writer, I realized I would be going on all kinds of outdoor excursions with this vehicle. Thus, my maroon 4x4 with its 5.7L V-8 engine, roomy crew cab and capped bed was affectionately named "Trek." That's right, "Trek, the Truck." As in, "today, Trek and I are going..."

For 8.5-years, Trek took me all across PA and into neighboring states. We went hunting, fishing, hiking, camping, kayaking, canoeing, biking, boating, and pursuing a wide gamut of other outdoor activities together. Trek never complained, regardless of how much gear I put in the cab, stowed in the bed, attached on the hitch, or towed behind. The funny thing is, my wife often said our Tundra actually belonged to our two German shepherds, since Colby proudly occupied the backseat from Dec. 2015 to Apr. 2021, and Saint called it his from Mar. 2022 to Jun. 2024. I was merely their chauffeur. I have numerous great photos of them in the truck: some with their heads out the window, others sound asleep on the backseat, and a few where they thought they needed to occupy the driver's seat when Dad went into a store. My fondest memories with Trek will be forever intertwined with my wife, our children, and our dogs.

One thing I loved about Trek was its ability to maintain whatever speed you set the cruise control at, regardless of whether you were on a flat stretch, going uphill, or downhill. This was a tremendous advantage when making the 5-hour drive across the Commonwealth to visit my parents or during the many occasions when we helped move our three children and their belongings from one location to another. My brother once commented Trek wasn't a truck, since the ride was too smooth and comfortable.

Many of my trips with Trek were rather short. Some a mere couple of hundred yards, as I often hauled firewood around our property. While others were only a few miles, as I often used Trek to shuttle either my canoe or kayak to launch sites either upstream or downstream from Pulaski along the Shenango River. I frequently did "peddle and paddle" excursions, where I would drive down to either Nashua Bridge or Harbor, ride my bicycle home, and then paddle down in a canoe or kayak to where the truck was parked.

Trek spent many a day parked in access areas/launch sites on Shenango Reservoir, Lake Wilhelm, and all along the Allegheny River, from Franklin in Venango County all the way downstream to downtown Pittsburgh. When we went to Presque Isle, it was a coin-flip whether there would be kayaks in the bed or bicycles on the hitch rack. Many an enjoyable evening was spent cruising back roads around Benetzette, Winslow Hill, and the vast PA Wilds Region on elk-watching excursions. Trek also spent considerable time parked at access points along the Stavich Bike Trail, the Montour Trail, or the MetroParks Bikeway, as we peddled those rails-to-trails projects. Trek's 4-wheel drive got me through many difficult roads (if you can even call some of the "goat paths" we traversed roads). The last "iffy" situation was a very rutted, muddy 300-yard stretch of access road by the northern edge of State Game Lands 203 near Warrendale. It was bad, but no way was I going to get stuck in Allegheny County, and Trek didn't leave me down.

Then there's the story of Mike from West Middlesex, who on 3 separate occasions got his older, white Chevy Trailblazer severely stuck at the Pulaski boat launch. We're talking into the river at times, but Trek's 4-Low and lengthy tow straps successfully extricated him each time. The sad news is a chipmunk chewed through Trek's wiring harness last summer and the transmission never seemed to shift properly, even with multiple parts replaced. It became a concern on longer excursions and last week, Trek was solemnly traded in for "Trek 2". I'll always have the memories and look forward to making many more with our replacement vehicle. Here's hoping your vehicle (named or not) brings you as much joy and as many memories as you pursue your passions outdoors! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

Hearty Egg Casserole

This tasty dish will fuel the family for a day outdoors filled with biking, hiking, fishing, or playing a few innings of softball at a community park.

Your kitchen will be awl when your school-age kids prepare the casserole with your supervision and assistance. Read the recipe together, then divvy up responsibilities once ingredients are gathered. "Who wants to crack and whip up the eggs? Or grate cheese? There's French bread to be sliced and lined up in even rows," you might ask, to get them excited and on task.

While supervising the sous chef team in their prep work, you can be completing the adult task of frying or baking the bacon. When assembled, cover and put in the refrigerator overnight, then bake just before serving.

HEARTY EGG-AND-CHEESE CASSEROLE

Serves 12

- 1/2 loaf French bread, cut in 3/4-inch slices
- 8 eggs, beaten
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 3/4 cup sour cream
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon white or black pepper
- Pinch of cayenne pepper (optional)
- 10 slices cooked bacon, crumbled
- 1 cup Swiss cheese, shredded
- 1 cup Monterey Jack cheese, shredded
- 2 medium scallions, thinly sliced
- 1/2 red bell pepper, cored and chopped
- 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese, grated

To put it together the night before, butter a 9-by-13-inch baking pan or spray with cooking spray. Cover the bottom with bread slices. Whisk together beaten eggs, milk, sour cream, mustard, salt and ground peppers. Set aside.

Sprinkle bacon, shredded cheeses, scallions and red bell pepper over the bread, making sure that the ingredients are evenly distributed. Pour the egg mixture over it all. Cover tightly with foil and refrigerator overnight.

In the morning, remove from the refrigerator and let stand for 30 minutes, covered.

Preheat oven to 325 F and bake covered for 45 minutes, or until a knife inserted near the center comes out clean. Remove foil and sprinkle Parmesan evenly on top. Return to oven for 5-10 minutes.

Serve immediately.

Cook's Note: You can also assemble and bake the dish the same day.

Strange But True by Lucie Winborne

- The word "dunce," meaning a dull-witted or ignorant person, comes from the name of John Duns Scotus, one of the greatest minds of his time.
- The quagga, a close relative of the zebra but with stripes only on its head and neck, became the first extinct animal to have its DNA studied, in 1984.

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• To clean out your coffee grinder in order to use it for spices, add about a half-cup of white rice, then pulverize it. Repeat until scent is gone and rice powder comes out clean.

• Line the bottom of your dog's food dish (underside) with silicone caulk. Use a crisscross pattern in the center. This will keep the dish from sliding around when your pet eats.

• "There are so many different ways to pay bills these days that it can be hard to keep track of bills that need to be mailed. Here's a great way to keep track so it always gets there on time: I used to write the due dates of my bills on my calendar. Now I write the pay by date for each bill on the calendar. For bills that go in the mail, I write a date that's a week ahead of when it is due. For bills that are paid online, I write a date three days ahead of the due date, and for automatic payments, I deduct the money from the paycheck BEFORE the draft is made. Now I never miss a due date." - T.F. in Indiana

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

- In 1865, William E. Brockway printed a counterfeit $100 bill that was so perfect, it left the Treasury Department with the sole option of withdrawing all authentic $100 bills from circulation.

- Are you annoyed by the sounds of wheezing, whistling, chewing, drinking, crunching, slurping, finger tapping and the like? It's not just a quirk, but a psychiatric disorder called misophonia.
- Relics of saints were so valued in the Middle Ages that when Elizabeth of Hungary died in 1231, her body was quickly dismembered for holy mementos by a crowd.
- Crayola came from the words for "oily chalk."
- The Wright brothers' first flight was shorter than the wingspan of a B-52 bomber.
- Thought for the Day: "One doesn't discover new lands without consenting to lose sight of the shore for a very long time."
